The Columbus Region

A Midwest location within a one-day drive or one-hour flight of nearly half the population and manufacturing capacity of the U.S. and Canada.

A logistics hub anchored by the Rickenbacker area with more than 35 million square feet of development, CSX and Norfolk Southern Railroads, a cargo airport and foreign trade zone.

Home to Ohio's capital, the 15th largest city in the U.S., and the third-fastest growing major metropolitan area in the Midwest.

With the infrastructure you need and space to grow, the Columbus Region is perfectly situated to connect you to the world.

Be here. Get there.
